Honeymooners Secluded in the Bahamas

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Patrick and Luci Johnson Nugent were honeymooning today at a spacious and secluded waterfront villa.
The President's daughter, who wore dark glasses, and her husband, using the name "Mr. and Mrs. Frisbee," went practically unrecognized on the jet airliner they took from New York Sunday along with six other honeymoon couples.
At Kennedy Airport only one man, seeing them pass by, turned to his wife and said, "There's Luci Johnson."
Preceded by two Secret Service men, Pat and Luci were the last passengers to board the plane at Kennedy and the first to leave the Pan American flight when it touched down here. A waiting white limousine whisked them away to "Capricorn," the $250,000 home of Mrs. Rebekah Harkness-Kean, socially prominent philanthropist.
On the 2½-hour flight, the Nugents sat by newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Larry Buczkowski of Pittsburgh. The Buczkowskis later said they did not recognize the Nugents. The five other couples rode in the economy section.
Luci wore a blue skirt, white blouse, and black ballerina slippers. Her husband of one day was attired in a light gray business suit.
They each had steak dinners on the plane. The 19-year-old bride, under drinking age, had a soft drink while Nugent, 23, ordered vodka, a stewardess said.
After the couple were driven to the villa, a chain was quickly placed across the drive. "Capricorn" is about eight miles west of Nassau, on the western side of New Providence Island some three miles from Lyford Cay, famous millionaire's resort. Thick foliage borders the estate on three sides and on the fourth is a private, white sand beach.
On the other side of the world, while his brother was marrying Luci in Washington Saturday, 1st Lt. Gerard Nugent, 24, of the U. S. Marine Corps slept on a canvas cot amid the boom of artillery near Hill 65 Viet Nam.

Common Mkt. Tying Up Biggest Deal

By NEL SLIS
BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — European Common Market officials and delegates are on a month's vacation, after tying up the biggest package deal in the market's nine-year history.
Before going away they agreed on merging agricultural and industrial markets of the six countries not later than July 1968.
This means that the main pillars are established for a single market for 200 million Europeans.
The new agricultural policy is protectionist, with high prices for farm produce.
In year-long debates the six were reluctant to make concessions. The attractive side of the agreement was that the cost of buying supports and export subsidies will be financed from a common fund to which the national treasuries contribute.
The fund's annual budget, almost $2 billion from 1968 onward, will cover part of the costs to modernize and mechanize farming.
The single market will make it easier for the six to tackle some of the major problems of modernizing their farming. A low level of productivity, resulting in farm incomes consistently behind those of industrial workers, has made it difficult for farmers to stand up to competition.
Farmers make up 17 per cent of the market's 76-million working population. They earn only 8 per cent of the gross community product. Industrial workers make up about 43 per cent, earning about 45.5 per cent. People employed in the services represent 39 per cent, earning some 45.9 per cent.
Of the 11.5 million farmers, about 400,000 leave the land annually. More than two-thirds of all community farms are under 25 acres. There is a lack of mobility due to the wide differences in language, religion and traditions between the community's northern tip in Hamburg and its southern tip in Sicily.
Other problems are those of shortages and surplus and the lack of a stable balance of supply and demand, often due to climate.

A wider consumer market will improve sales prospects and enable farmers to specialize. To help the community's shortage of manpower in industry, a social fund helps toward coordinated vocational training schemes for people leaving the land.
Grapes will be grown in southern regions only, not in hot-houses in Belgium and Holland. Southern Italy will leave sugar beats to the farmers in the north.
National tariffs and quotas are replaced by a community system of internal and external levies administered by the Executive Commission. Starting next July, single prices for farm products will be introduced throughout the community.
The next move must be to harmonize fiscal and transport policy, including freight rates, lest differing subsidies and taxation affect competition.
The market has agreed on the main outline of a transport policy, but completing the agreement will be difficult. For example, The Netherlands, with a Rhine River fleet, is loath to give up cheap freight rates.
American railroads began to use electric lights in their trains in 1887.

NOT A MOVIE but a real chariot race in Rome's famed Borghese Gardens. The race is one of the spectacles out of the Eternal City's past being re-created this summer for the entertainment of tourists.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There is a widely held belief among actors, undoubtedly fostered by budget-minded producers, that any regular employment in television, no matter how dismal the series, helps a fledgling career.

"Forget it," commanded Judy Carne, who encountered her leanest days after her two frail comedy barks foundered in network channels with all hands aboard.

Judy, who had replaced Julie Andrews in the London production of "The Boy Friend," was imported five years ago to play the young English girl in the ill-fated "Fair Exchange."

Then, a couple of seasons back, she had a part in "Baileys Of Balboa," another disappointment. Now she is a co-star in ABC's upcoming young-marrieds comedy, "Love On A Rooftop."

But it was not previous experience that won her a third chance. It was an elimination contest that started with 20 girls, among them Nancy Sinatra. And Judy worked hard, with a coach and a recorder, to eliminate her native British accents.

The elimination process for "Love On A Rooftop" was a real ordeal. After the 20 girls had been arbitrarily reduced to four, each girl was subjected to a "personality test." This involved sitting down in front of a camera to be interviewed by a director who had a bit of free time.

Ultimately she was told she would probably be the choice — but only for the pilot episode of an unsold program, maybe a week's work. Then came two months while they were testing for the boy who would play her husband — a difficult time when she could not take any acting jobs that would tie her up for more than a few days at a time.

This went on from September until they finally shot the pilot one week in December.

The series is built around the adventures of a young $85-a-week apprentice architect and his bride (Judy), an uninhibited art student. The aim of the show is to capture some of the kooky quality of, say, "You can't take it with you," which would be nice.

Judy, separated from husband Burt Reynolds (who is starring in New York in his own new ABC series, "Hawk") rides to work on her motorcycle and spends nonworking hours taking singing lessons and keeping up her dancing.

Foundation Now Worth Half Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — A charitable foundation founded a decade ago by President and Mrs. Johnson has grown to a net worth of more than a half million dollars.

Internal Revenue Service records for fiscal 1965 listed the Johnson City Foundation with a net worth of $520,287, an increase of $134,485 from the previous year.

Most of this increase came from $112,222 in contributions, gifts and grants although individual donations were not listed.

The President is no longer formally connected with the foundation, which has trustees but can't a gal even briefly powder her nose? How would you answer? — Mrs. S.M.

Dear Mrs. M.: With $10 riding on my answer: very cautiously!

Why not call it a draw? Checking make-up briefly in public is permissible, though not in the best taste.

But when a man makes a scene about his wife's lapse — this is also bad taste. — H.

P.S. — If he really "created a riot" collect five bucks from him.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Dear Helen: I went to school with two sisters. One married, the other didn't, and town rumor had it they fell in love with the same man. About six years later, the married sister was in a terrible accident and became a human vegetable. She breathes. That is about all.

Then the man was transferred to a city in Canada, and he took both sisters with him, one as "nurse". Later he changed to another firm.

Recently a friend visited in Canada, and she ran into this man and his sister-in-law who did not seem overjoyed to see her. She gathered from keeping her ears open that the sister had switched roles — nurse is now "wife" and patient is the poor sister "Mr. and Mrs. X" are caring for.

Knowing this kind of thing goes on, isn't it somebody's duty to let the man's company in on the secret? — Aware

Dear Aware: Knowing what kind of thing goes on? Has it occurred to you that a divorce may have been arranged, and nurse is now legal wife? Even if not, it's none of your business. Leave them alone! — H.

ELEGANCE and femininity have returned to fashion in the New York collections for fall 1966. Lustrous dark jade costume by Mollie Parnis (left) has coat buttoned in black braid and belted at the back. Its lining of vivid Roman stripes matches the scarf tucked into the slashed neckline of the companion dress. Oyster wool short evening costume (right) by Roxane for Samuel Winston is banded at the hemline with rows of rhinestones, pearls and silver bugle beads on both the collarless coat and its matching sleeveless dress.

Dear Helen: Must a man always stand until a woman sits down? There's this table-hopping friend of my wife's. At the club she stops to talk and keeps it up for five minutes while my soup gets cold.

My wife says the custom of standing for a lady is outdated — Stood Up

Dear S. U.: Not outdated, but it should be updated to read, "Men need not remain standing for table-hopping women who remain standing. They are too thoughtless to merit extreme courtesy." — H.

Dear Helen: My brother, sisters and I don't have our birth certificates, and our 78-year-old mother is no help. She doesn't have one either. We need them for old age benefits. Where can we write? — Born Too Soon

Dear BTS: Write to the Court House in the county where you were born. — H.

Charged Officer Pleads Innocent

WASHINGTON (AP) — A retired Army lieutenant colonel once assigned to the office of the Joint Chiefs of Staff has pleaded innocent to charges that he conspired to sell U.S. military secrets to the Soviet Union.

A federal judge set the trial of William Henry Whelan, Alexandria, Va., for Dec. 19 and gave defense attorneys until Sept. 20 to file pretrial motions.

A federal grand jury indictment accused Whelan of receiving $5,500 from two former Soviet Embassy officials as part of a conspiracy to give them information about atomic weaponry, missiles, troop movements and other data.

Dodgers Now in National League Lead

Fights Last Night
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LONDON — Cassius Clay, 209½, Louisville, Ky., knocked out Brian London, 200½, Blackpool, England, 3. Clay retained world heavyweight championship.
MANILA, Philippines — Flash Elorde, 136, Philippines, outpointed Percy Hayes, 133½, Jamaica, 10.
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Willie Ludick, South Africa, outpointed Jean Josselin, France, 15, welterweights.
ROSARIO CITY, Argentina — Juan Carlos Rivery, Argentina, outpointed Rubin (Hurricane) Carter, Paterson, N.J., 10, middleweights.
MEXICO CITY — Manuel Ramos, 205, Mexico, knocked out Wayne Heath, 214, Tulsa, Okla., 2.
MEXICO CITY — Vicente Saldivar, 124½, Mexico, outpointed Mitsunori Seki, 124, Japan, 15. Saldivar retained world featherweight championship.
MEXICO CITY — Mario Diaz, 125, Mexico, outpointed Richie Sue, 124, Portland, Ore., 12.

Roseboro handed out some headaches as the Los Angeles Dodgers trounced Houston 14-3 and took over the league lead for the second straight Sunday. The Dodgers, who had fallen from the top after moving into first place last Sunday, grabbed a one-percentage-point lead over the Pittsburgh Pirates, who lost to Cincinnati 9-7, and a three-point margin over the San Francisco Giants, who downed Chicago 9-6.
Roseboro contributed three hits to the Dodgers' 20-hit onslaught and scored three runs. The performance was typical of those the veteran catcher has been having since he decided pre-game batting practice was for other guys.
"I used to hit, hit and hit some more in the cage," Roseboro explained. "I would have my timing down perfect. Then I would go into the game and I was no good. After batting-practice lollipops, pitches in the game looked like aspirin tablets."

As far as the Dodgers are concerned, Roseboro's hitting — since he kicked the batting practice habits — has been sweeter than a lollipop.
Through May 31, the 33-year-old Roseboro batted .240. Since then, without the aid of pre-game hitting, he has hit .348, bringing his season average up to .310, by far the best on the team.

That's not bad for a player whose lifetime average is .245.
In other NL games, Atlanta blanked Philadelphia 3-0 and St. Louis and New York split a pair of 4-1 games.

In the American League, Washington stopped Baltimore 6-2, Cleveland swept New York 6-4 and 5-3, Detroit downed Boston 9-2 before bowing 7-6 in 10 innings, Chicago edged California 9-8 in 10 and Kansas City defeated Minnesota 4-2 after losing 2-1.

Aiding Roseboro in the Dodgers' attack against Houston were Lou Johnson, Ron Fairly and Jim Lefebvre, who each drove in three runs, and Willie Davis, who rapped four hits. Fairly, who also had four hits and Johnson homered.

Another Johnson, Cincinnati's Deron, helped drop Pittsburgh from first place. He drove in four runs, including three with a sixth-inning double that proved decisive. Roberto Clemente drove in five Pirate runs, lashing two singles and two homers.

San Francisco rallied for four runs in the seventh inning, the last two on Cap Peterson's single, in stopping a three-game losing streak. The rally wiped out Chicago's 4-3 lead and helped Gaylord Perry gain his 17th victory against two defeats.

Tony Cloninger pitched a five-hitter against Philadelphia. The Braves' hurler also doubled home a run in the seventh. Rico Carty homered for Atlanta in the second.

Tim McCarver's two-run homer in the sixth powered St. Louis past New York in the opener. Bob Gibson won his 14th game with nine-inning relief from Hal Woodeshick.

The Mets came back in the second game behind a pair of run-scoring singles by Ron Swoboda. Jack Fisher stymied the Cardinals on six hits.

High School Stars Down to Hard Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas' high school all-stars, a day of rest under their belts, get back down to work today in preparation for Saturday's two big games.

The 100 outstanding football and basketball stars arrived in Little Rock Saturday, participated in a workout and attended a banquet Saturday night before getting their rest Sunday — except for a picture-taking session.

But today begins two-day drills through Thursday before the tapering off for the games. The basketball battle is set for 2 p.m. Saturday at Barton Coliseum and the football game for 8 p.m. in War Memorial Stadium.

The East is a slight favorite in both games and will seek a fifth straight triumph in football. The East holds a 6-4 football advantage and the West a 6-4 basketball edge.

The basketball teams will get one practice session a day in Barton Coliseum. Other sessions will be held at their training bases at local schools.

Coach Jim Cathcart of Class AAA state champion Little Rock Central heads the East basketball staff and Coach Bob Denniston of Morrilton heads the West. Denniston coached at Harrison last year and the Gobblins rolled to a second place finish in the Class AA state meet.

Ken Stephens of North Little Rock is the head football coach for the East and Don Hubbard of De Queen heads the West. The game offers coaches of the leading teams in last year's Associated Press high school polls. Stephens' Wildcats won the football poll and Denniston's Gobblins won the basketball poll.

Wayne Causey tripled in two runs in the 10th for Chicago as the White Sox scored four extra-inning runs in their victory over California. And they needed every one of them, because California came right back with three of their own in the 10th, but reliever Dennis Higgins struck out the last two batters and preserved the triumph.

Fred Whitfield, who lives for Yankee pitching, hit two homers and drove in four runs in Cleveland's first victory over New York, and Rocky Colavito contributed the winning two-run double in the eighth inning of the nightcap. Chuck Hinton had five hits, including a homer, in the two games.

Don Mincher's two runs batted in gave Minnesota the opening-game victory, and Dick Green's pair propelled Kansas City to the nightcap triumph. Dave Boswell, who went five innings of the opener before leaving with a stiff shoulder, raised his league-leading strikeout total to 165.

Republican Candidates Visit Hope Friday

Ed 'Strangler' Lewis Dies in Oklahoma

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — Ed Strangler Lewis, who achieved professional wrestling fame during the 1920s as a man-wrecking powerhouse, spent the last 25 years of his life teaching young boys to build their lives on a firm religious foundation.
Lewis, whose real name was Robert H. Friedrich, died here Sunday in a Veterans Administration hospital following an extended illness. He was 76.
He was a huge, barrel-chested man whose neck was larger than most men's thighs. And he ruled the heavyweight wrestling ring from 1920 until 1932, when he lost his title to Gus Sonnenburg, a former Dartmouth All-America football player.

In a professional wrestling career which spanned 44 years, Lewis earned more than $3 million and lost only 33 of his 6,200 matches. He earned one of wrestling's biggest purses in the Sonnenburg bout. His take was $25,000.

Lewis became devoutly religious after temporarily losing his eyesight because of trachoma during the height of his career.

The first great U.S. depression occurred in 1837.

Republican candidates paid a visit to Hope last Friday to officially open headquarters in Hempstead County.

Dressen Is Back in the Hospital

DETROIT (AP) — Charlie Dressen, Detroit Tigers manager, entered the hospital again Sunday — this time for what has been described as a probable acute kidney infection — casting further doubt whether he'll ever return to the bench again.

The Tigers front office, however, refused to comment on Dressen's possible future with the club. His condition is listed as serious.

Dressen, 67, who suffered his second heart attack in 14 months last May 16, had been recuperating in Detroit. He recently went on a trip to Syracuse, N.Y., to watch some of the younger players on Detroit's No. 1 farm team.

Brodie Signs With 49ers for $750,000

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Buffalo Bills' new shoe may turn out to be a perfect fit and the San Francisco 49ers' quarterback may be sitting pretty, but how far can the Cleveland Browns expect to go in a 42-year-old toe?

Booth Lusteg, heir apparent to the Gogolak as Buffalo's place-kicking specialist, booted the American Football League champions to a 19-13 exhibition victory over the Boston Patriots Sunday.

Meanwhile, San Francisco's John Brodie, who ended a hold-out last Wednesday by signing a long-term contract reportedly in the neighborhood of $750,000, moved from the bench as the 49ers bowed to the Dallas Cowboys 24-13 in a National Football League pre-season test.

Saturday, 15-year veteran Lou Roza accounted for Cleveland's only points with two field goals and the Browns, making their initial start without Jimmy Brown in the backfield, took a 16-6 beating from the Los Angeles Rams in an NFL warm-up.

Lusteg, who didn't play football as an undergraduate at Boston College, kicked four field goals and an extra point against the Patriots, all but filling the gap left in the Bills' attack when Gogolak departed for the NFL's New York Giants.

"He showed us he can kick under pressure with accuracy and distance," Bills Coach Joel Hollier said. "He just about has our kicking job wrapped up."

Lusteg kicked field goals from 18, 28, 42 and 47 yards out and converted after rookie Allen Smith sent the Bills in front with a three-yard scoring plunge in the fourth quarter.

In other NFL games St. Louis trimmed Atlanta 20-10, Philadelphia shelled Chicago 40-21, New York edged Pittsburgh 16-14 and Minnesota battled Detroit to a 6-6 standoff.

San Diego buried Miami 38-10 and Kansas City downed Denver 32-30 in other AFL exhibition play.

Clay Back in U.S. After British Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Cassius Clay was back in Chicago today for a conference with Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammad, a little rest and consideration of his financial and managerial situations before preparing for his next heavyweight title defense.

Clay paused between planes in New York Sunday to note that he was coming to Chicago to visit Elijah Muhammad "as I always do after a fight."

He had just returned to the United States from London, where he had knocked out Brian London of England in the third round of a scheduled 15-round title bout Saturday night.

It was his 25th consecutive victory as a pro, his fifth successful title defense in a row, his second in 10 weeks in England and his last under his current contract with the Louisville, Ky., sponsoring group that nurtured him from the amateur ranks to the most valuable title in professional sports.

Just what his managerial and financial arrangements might be in the future are still uncertain — but he has dropped some vague hints along the way.

Just before leaving for London, Clay announced that he would not renew his contract with the Louisville group — the syndicate since has confirmed it — but said he would stay with trainer Angelo Dundee as long as he is fighting.

The Louisville group which has sponsored him since his first professional fight, paid all training expenses, plus a small salary, and took 40 per cent of all gate receipts.

In England, however, Clay said that Herbert Muhammad, son of Elijah, would be his next manager. Herbert returned on the plane with him from England.

Clay, who was not pressed in the least in winning from London, said he hoped to get a little rest before his next title bout, against lefty Karl Mildenberger in Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 10. Clay, at 209½, was nine pounds heavier than London for their title bout in England. At 24, he was eight years younger. And he was stronger and faster.

He toyed with the jet-jawed Englishman for two rounds, dancing and feinting, before backing him into a corner in the third round and driving him to the canvas with a barrage of blows.

Undecided on Franchise at New Orleans

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — There were reports out today that the American Football League did and did not want New Orleans as its next franchise site.

There also were those who said this city would be the next National Football League member.

Over the weekend there were reports that one of the unannounced agreements of the recent merger between the American and National Leagues would give the older league first crack at the top college quarterback in this winter's draft while the AFL would get its preference for an expansion franchise.

"Neither league has a preferential position in expansion as part of the agreement," replied NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle to queries in New York Sunday night.

But, William Clay Ford, owner of the NFL's Detroit Lions, was quoted by Bob Roesler, sports editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, in a copyrighted story Sunday.

"I understand the American Football League has the first refusal on the next city to be added to pro football. And George Wilson (of the Miami Dolphins) told me the AFL would like to move into New Orleans."

Roesler quoted Ford as saying the information came from Ralph Wilson of the Buffalo Bills in the paper's first edition, then changed it to George Wilson in subsequent editions.

Wilson denied the story.

From Chicago on Saturday came a report there was a secret footnote to the original merger announcement automatically giving the NFL the right to the top quarterback.

The Chicago story said it was reported, but not confirmed, that the special quarterback status may have been given in exchange for the AFL getting preferential treatment in selecting a city when the leagues expand.

The NFL will add one team for the 1967 season and the AFL will award a franchise for 1968, although it is understood the announcement of both teams might come simultaneously.

Good Racing Day for the Phipps Family

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
It was quite a day for the Phipps family and trainer Eddie Neloy — perhaps the greatest by one stable in the history of thoroughbred racing.

With Buckpasser winning the $123,100 American Derby at Arlington Park and Great Power the $104,485 Sapling at Monmouth Park, the stable earned a total of $167,539.50 Saturday.

Buckpasser, posting his eighth straight triumph en route to the 3-year-old title and a strong bid for Horse of the Year, banked $84,100 for Ogden Phipps, Great Power, a leading candidate for the 2-year-old crown after chalking up his fifth victory in seven starts, added another $62,691 for 85-year-old Mrs. H.C. Phipps, mother of Ogden and owner of the Wheatley Stable.

Another $10,448.50 came from Disciplinary's third in the Sapling, and Stupendous boosted the total $10,000 more with a fourth in the American Derby. Both carried the Wheatley silks. The two victories gave Neloy a total of 29 stakes triumphs since he took over the training of horses owned by the Phipps at the start of the year.

Other stables and trainers have won more money in one day, but a check of the record books failed to disclose two victories in $100,000 plus races on the same day. Neloy had a richer day in 1965 when Pass the Word won the New Hampshire Sweepstakes and $182,143.

Buckpasser's neck victory over Raymond Guest's Jolly Jet in track record time of 1:47 for 1¼ miles also placed the son of Tom Fool-Busanda in a position where he can become the first 3-year-old millionaire in his next start. That is expected to be the $75,000 added Travers at Saratoga Aug. 20.

Aug. 20.

The powerfully-built Phipps colt, who was ridden by Braulio Baeza, already has earned $984,679 and stands sixth on the all-time money winning list.

Great Power, who just managed to beat lightly regarded Reality in the swiftly run six furlongs of the Sapling (1:05 2-5), also is headed for another rich pay day. His next start is scheduled to be the $75,000-added Hopeful at Saratoga, Aug. 27. The son of Bold Ruler has a bank account of $97,225 and a string of four straight victories.

Staunchess, who had not won a race since taking the Dwyer a year ago, surprised with a length triumph over Argentine-bred Proligo in the $55,000 Whiteney at Saratoga.

In other top races, BF's Own won the $15,000 White Mountain Handicap at Rockingham Park, Old Mose took the $20,000 San Diego 'Cap at Del Mar and Bonny Johnny was first in the $15,000 Good Neighbor Handicap at Detroit.

Democrats Urged to Talk for Policy

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's top political strategist is urging Democratic congressional candidates to campaign this fall in full support of the President's Vietnam policy.

"In the coldest political terms," Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien said, "I've told these candidates the strongest political position they could be in is to support the administration's policy in South Vietnam."

"I think the President is in damned good shape in the country," he added in an interview.

with The Associated Press. "In some areas he's stronger than in 1964. And I'm convinced from the polls and conversations around the country that the overwhelming number of Americans don't feel we should turn tail and walk out of Vietnam."

O'Brien — chief organizer of John F. Kennedy's 1960 campaign for the presidency — has made some two dozen appearances in the districts of congressional candidates facing the toughest races this fall.

He keeps a detailed report on the races in every state. And while it's too early to predict in detail the outcome of the off-year election, O'Brien said he is not as concerned as some Democrats over the fate of the wave of young Democratic congressmen swept into office in Johnson's 1964 landslide victory over Barry Goldwater.

Hearings on the Airline Strike Resume

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee resumes hearings today on a bill that would end the month-old airlines strike, but its members are watching wistfully for any sign of movement toward a negotiated settlement.

The committee made it clear over the weekend it is reluctant to go ahead with the Senate-passed measure that would put the striking airlines back to work for up to 180 days. Some committee members strongly oppose the legislation.

"I'm hoping that on Monday morning we can announce that something has happened," Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., said at a hearing on the measure Saturday.

Staggers spoke directly to the chief negotiators for the machinists union and the five struck airlines, who were in the audience, but he got no encouragement from them.

The committee hears union spokesmen today and those of the airlines Tuesday.

There were these related developments Sunday:

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., predicted that within a year Congress will pass permanent legislation to deal with strikes in airlines and other regulated industries.

Speaking on a television-radio program taped for New York stations, Javits said he favors "limited seizure by the government" under which facilities would be operated temporarily to meet public health, safety and national security needs.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said unless business, industry and union display "self discipline" on wage and price issues it could lead "to something nobody will like." He said there was a possibility that this "something" might be anti-strike legislation. Humphrey appeared on the CBS television-radio program "Face The Nation."

Fear Wallace to Become Demo Asset

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Republicans are beginning to fear that Gov. George C. Wallace may become a political asset for President Johnson in 1968 if Wallace's wife is elected Alabama's governor.

The installation of Lurleen Wallace in the governor's chair next January probably would signal the start of a campaign by Wallace for president. He had a whirl at the Democratic nomination in 1964.

As the symbol of the so-called "white backlash" against Negro civil rights demonstrations, Wallace got 42.8 per cent of the vote in the Maryland presidential primary. His mark was 29.9 per cent in Indiana and 25 per cent in Wisconsin.

Republican leaders think Wallace may not go chasing rainbows in the Democratic ranks next time but may follow the third party route pioneered in modern times by Sen. Strom Thurmond — then governor of South Carolina — when he collected 39 electoral votes in 1948.

If Wallace steps into the 1968 presidential contest, Republican strategists think he will take more electoral votes away from their candidate than from Johnson.

As of now, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon seems to have a greater appeal in the South than any other potential GOP nominee.

There also is some Republican worry about Wallace's potential impact outside the South. (One GOP strategist put it this way: "If that fellow could get on the ballot, he could make it hard for us to carry Ohio, Indiana and some other northern states. He could be taking votes away from us where it hurts.")

Wallace would be dead politically if his wife is defeated for the Alabama governorship. He would lack a base of operations and the demonstrated ability to continue his winning ways — by proxy in this case — in his home state.

In this situation the Republicans expect to pour on the campaign and financial coal for Rep. James D. Martin, the GOP candidate for governor.

Martin was one of five Republicans who won House seats in Alabama in 1964.

It Didn't Last Long

On July 4, President Johnson signed a "freedom-of-information" bill and declared his pride in "an open society in which the people's right to know is cherished and guarded."

On July 8, The State praised the President's action and his attitude in an editorial which contained this comment: "If President Johnson means what he says, many of his henchmen will have to change their way of doing business — or get out of government service. For years the American people have been denied access to governmental information on the pretext that certain policies and procedures were not of public concern."

On July 12, emissaries from U. S. Commissioner of Education Harold Howe II opened a three-day series of meetings in Columbia with school officials from various South Carolina communities. The sessions were closed to the press and to the public.

The autocratic assumption that they were "private meetings." On July 16, The State poses two questions: What right have federal authorities to discuss public school business in private meetings with South Carolina educators? What does President Johnson propose to do about this flagrant flouting of the public's right to know almost before the ink had dried on his signature of the freedom-of-information bill? — Columbia (S.C.) Those Paper Dolls

Right now, paper dresses, which are already on the market, are being looked upon as a novelty. But we predict they will soon be seen as the most revolutionary innovation in clothing since zippers.

A Brooklyn department store introduced paper dresses recently and sold 1,800 in two weeks. Salesgirls called the response phenomenal. Women hauled away the dresses in stacks. It's not at all surprising; the dresses are cheap, disposable and virtually worry-free. Women will wear again have to wear the same dress twice. They all can be literal paper dolls.

And think of the changes bound to come in retail dress shops. Dresses will no longer be stored on racks, but on rollers and in dispensers. Or possibly in loose-leaf binders. Carbon copies of any creation in the world will be available to the average woman. And no longer will expensive alterations be necessary. Women can tear along the dotted lines to get the desired dress length. With cellophane tape, staples, paper clips and erasers women will be able to make even major repairs in seconds.

There's just no telling what the trend will unfold. The sack dress could take on new meaning. So, too, could the rather pedestrian print dress, becoming the height of fashion with new creations being judged on the basis of legibility and neatness of margins. Dresses could be published instead of manufactured, and even home delivery could be arranged. Seamstresses could become editors overnight. Men would read as never before. Dresses, as well as books, could be banned in Boston.

In fact, the only hazard we foresee in this new and wonderful trend is the probability that fashion designers will push on to cardboard dresses. Fashion and technology being what they are, it's almost inevitable. If that happens, the whole thing will undoubtedly fold. — Winston-Salem (N.C.) Twin City Sentinel.

Selective Service Hearings Deferred

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee has deferred until early next year further hearings in its study of the Selective Service System.

The announcement by Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., came a few hours after the Defense Department set the October draft call at 16,200, highest since the Korean War.

The Pentagon also boosted the September call from the previously announced 31,300 to 37,000, citing a reduction in estimated Army enlistments.

Racial Issue Flares Again in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Some 1,500 civil rights demonstrators marched through a crowd of some 2,000 jeering, rock-throwing whites Sunday in an all-white neighborhood on Chicago's Northwest Side.

Solid walls of police protected the integrated band of marchers as they took their demands for open housing back to the streets of the Cragin section of Chicago for the third time. It was the largest protest group to march since demonstrations calling for open housing began in white neighborhoods 10 days ago.

Intense hostility flared in the first half hour of the march. Firecrackers exploded at the feet of policemen. Rocks and bottles rained on the marchers. Police squadrons charged the hecklers. Several white persons who refused to obey police and fought back were clubbed and thrown into police vans.

A policeman fired several times above the heads of the mob. Then a summer rainstorm took the edge off the violence. The marchers trudged on in the rain, trailed by bands of hooting white teen-agers.

They stopped twice in the rain, for brief prayer vigils in front of two churches — one Lutheran, the other Roman Catholic.

7 American Planes Lost in Viet Nam

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. military command announced today that American pilots encountered a near-record 24 Soviet-built missiles over North Viet Nam Sunday when seven U.S. planes were shot down. It was the heaviest loss in a single day of the air war.

Under the command's revised information policy, a spokesman refused to say whether any of the planes were hit by surface-to-air missiles. He said only that they were lost to ground fire rather than to enemy planes.

The spokesman said earlier that there were no reports of any missile sightings Sunday over North Viet Nam. He explained today such information from pilots is collected separately and is forwarded to him later.

Heavy ground fire drove off rescue helicopters, and only two of the nine fliers hit were rescued, the spokesman said. The others were listed as missing in action, although the Air Force said pilots sighted three parachutes and heard signals from two "beeper" signal radios.

Radio Hanoi said some pilots were captured but did not give the number or any identities.

The spokesman said most of the missiles—presumably more advanced SAMs recently supplied by the Soviets—were fired in the corridors north and northwest of Hanoi, where most of the planes went down. The most missiles fired in one day was 28 on July 19.

Five of the planes lost were Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs, including two F105Es packed with electronic gear for use against radar and missile sites. They and a Navy A1 Skyraider were known to have been hit, yesterday.

Shilling Has Tanzania Worried Some

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Tanzania's new 100-shilling bill, with its picture of a Masai warrior tending cattle, has the government worried.

The tribesmen, great cattle-tending fighters of northern Tanzania, believe the picture proves that all cattle in the country belong to them.

The tribesmen have a strong penchant for rustling — it's just part of a warrior's adult life. The practice leads to tribal wars and many deaths.

The picture on the money has complicated the problem. Second Vice President Rashidi Kawawa, on a Masailand tour, warned the warriors not to take the picture literally.

"It doesn't mean the Masai are more important than other people," he said.

Kawawa also threatened that the government would use aircraft to trace cattle thieves if necessary.

Crash Kills 42, Cause Investigated

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — Two recording devices recovered from the wreckage may hold keys to the cause of a jet airliner crash which killed all 42 persons aboard Saturday night.

The Braniff International Airways plane was in an envelope of flame when it plunged from a cloud into a soybean field about 8 miles southeast of here.

"My God, the world is on fire," shouted a witness as an explosion flared.

Ed Slattery, spokesman for a 12-man Civil Aeronautics Board investigating team, said a device installed to record conversation in the cockpit was recovered "in a rather battered condition."

If its record is intact, it will yield any cockpit conversation which took place in the 30 minutes before the crash.

Another device, designed to record the plane's position and movements in the air, also was recovered.

Both recorders were built to withstand a crash.

Slattery said analysis of any records by experts in Washington would take at least several days.

Antone Schawang, owner of the field where the plane crashed, was with his family in an automobile when the disaster occurred. "The sky seemed to light up," he said, as the burning plane crashed and exploded. It was then that his wife shouted that "the world is on fire."

Sitting in the kitchen of his farm home three hours later, his sunnied face tired and drawn, Schawang continued his description.

"I could see this ball of flames dropping almost straight down, then I saw the tip of a wing sticking out and I knew it was a plane," he said.

"Then there was the crash. 'It came so close — a few more yards and our house and buildings would have been wiped out.'"

Schawang said the impact tossed flames and debris "500 feet in the air. It sounded more like hitting your fist on the table than an explosion."

450,000 to Vote Tuesday in Arkansas

By JOHN R. STARR
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — An estimated 450,000 Arkansas Democrats will select a nominee for governor Tuesday in a runoff primary in which the state's relationship with the federal government has been the most heated issue.

The candidates are Jim Johnson, 41, an outspoken segregationist and a critic of President Johnson, and Frank Holt, 55, who has pledged to continue the state's policy of cooperation with Washington.

Waiting to face the Democratic winner in the general election is Winthrop Rockefeller, who easily won the Republican nomination for governor two weeks ago.

Behind Rockefeller is a revitalized Republican party and the Democratic nominee is not assured of election as he once was in this traditionally Democratic state.

A cofeature of the runoff is a race for Congress in the 4th District between two young lawyers, David Pryor, 31, of Camden and Richard Arnold, 30, of Texarkana. They are seeking a seat vacated last February by the resignation of Rep. Oren Harris, who became a federal judge.

The nominations for lieutenant governor, attorney general and "Six on the Supreme" also are at stake.

week as the governor caused the field changed and the official vote was certified last Friday, 10 days after the election.

Claude Carpenter of Little Rock led the eight-man ticket July 26 and Joe Basore of Cherokee Village appeared to have qualified for the runoff. Basore immediately began campaigning against Carpenter.

But James Pilkinton of Hope, the apparent third place finisher, picked up almost 1,000 votes in the official report from Clark County and edged ahead of Basore. He had gone on television the night before the vote was certified to endorse Basore. Basore promptly endorsed him.

In the attorney general's race, Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, seeking a fifth term, faces Joe Purcell of Benton, a former municipal judge. Bennett missed nomination in the first primary by about 3,000 votes.

Opponents in the Supreme Court race are T. J. Gentry of Little Rock, who led the ticket, and John Fogleman of West Memphis.

Most of the voter interest, however, has centered on the governor's race which, for the first time since 1954, does not involve Gov. Orval Faubus. Faubus is retiring after 12 years in office and he has not endorsed a candidate in the primary.

Johnson has contended, however, that Holt has Faubus' tacit backing and that the political organization which has supported Faubus through the years is fully behind Holt.

Holt has denied any Faubus connections. He has pegged his runoff campaign on criticism of Johnson's stand on state-federal issues and contends that election of Johnson might mean disaster for many federal aid programs.

Agencies Plan Meet at Spa

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Five federal agencies will be represented at the second International Congress on Air Technology at Hot Springs Oct. 26-29, W.M. Shepherd of Little Rock said Saturday.

Agencies to be represented are the Commerce Department, State Department, Defense Department, the Federal Aviation Agency and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Shepherd said.

Shepherd is board chairman of Valley Education and Research Foundation, sponsors of the symposium on the peaceful use of winged aircraft.

Lunar Craft Attempt Set
for Tuesday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The United States plans to launch a Lunar Orbiter spacecraft Tuesday toward an orbit about the moon to transmit pictures of nine potential astronaut landing areas.

One of the areas is in the Ocean of Storms where Surveyor 1 landed in June and transmitted 11,237 pictures.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration hopes Lunar Orbiter will obtain pictures of Surveyor and its surrounding terrain.

An Atlas-Agena rocket is to hurl the 850-pound craft skyward in a period between 11:07 a.m. and 3:43 p.m. EST Tuesday. After a 90-hour, quarter-million-mile journey, a retrorocket is to slow Lunar Orbiter so that it will be caught in the moon's gravitational field.

The initial lunar orbit is to range from 125 to 1,150 miles, after three to eight days of tracking to establish the precise path, ground controllers again will fire the retrorocket to drop the low point of the orbital course as close as 26 miles to the surface.

The three weeks of picture-taking is to start Aug. 18.

The United States has failed in seven attempts to place a payload in lunar orbit. Six attempts were in the early days of rocketry in 1958 to 1960. The Soviet Union succeeded with Luna 10 last April. The Soviet satellite did not transmit pictures.

"The Silent Guide," a film on traffic safety that should have been called "a thoughtful reflection on traffic signs," was shown to the Hope Rotary Club August 5 at a luncheon meeting in the Town and Country. W. T. Nuckols of Minneapolis, Minn, a representative of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company, showed the color movie which was narrated by Alex Dryer. Dave Peters, city engineer, arranged the program and introduced the speaker.

Clyde Fouse, vice president, had charge of the meeting in the absence of the president, Paul Klipsch. Haridas T. Muzumdar of Pine Bluff was a visiting Rotarian, and other guests were Maj. Gen. Harry J. Lemley, Jr., Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.; Bill and Daniel Basye, Akron, O.; Dr. V. M. Watts, Fayetteville; and Tom Pope, Nashville.

To The Voters Of Hempstead County:

On Tuesday, we, the Citizens of Hempstead County go to the polls and elect a County Judge.

It is with humbliness and great pride for my County, that I seek this office. Some of you I have been unable to meet personally, but, I want to assure you that the heads of each and every office of this County represents the desires of the Citizens who live in this wonderful county of ours.

As your next County Judge, I want to say that I, will at all times, have you uppermost in my mind in carrying out the duties of this office. It is my conviction that Good Government starts at the local level and my pledge to you is that I will always be above reproach in my efforts to serve as your County Judge.

Now on the eve of this election, I humbly solicit your vote and support.

Sincerely,
FINIS ODOM

LET'S DEVELOP THE INDUSTRIAL WATERS OF MILWOOD

Vital, Factual Information to Every Hempstead County Citizen

The Southwest Arkansas Water District handling the sale and distribution of water from Millwood Dam to the Nekoosa Edwards paper mill at Ashdown, municipal water for Foreman and possibly Texarkana, on the west side of the river, and the Champion Paper Company, in McNab-Fulton area, municipal water to Hope, Lewisville, Magnolia and other cities on the east side of the river, have made an application to the Economic Development Administration for a grant of $4,800,000.00 and loan of $4,800,000.00 with an interest rate of 3.75 per cent.

There have been meetings and a good deal of hours and thousands of dollars spent in perfecting this application because it will permit reduction in the cost of water to not only the paper mills but also the cities involved of approximately 50 per cent over the cost of the same water financed through the sale of revenue bonds.

This means that it can make the difference in the expansion of the Nekoosa Edwards mill and the location and expansion of a paper mill at the Fulton-McNab area. Furthermore, it would certainly make the difference between the feasibility of the purchase of municipal water for all of the towns involved.

In other words, the outcome of this loan and grant can put the area of Little River County and Hempstead County, with the other counties in the Water District, in the most favorable position for not only the anticipated use of the water, but the future use and sale of the water.

The status of the loan and grant at this time is, according to our understanding, that it has been approved by the Economic Development Administration and is now in the office of the Secretary of Commerce.

Loans and grants of such a large amount requires the approval of the Secretary of Commerce. As only $14,000,000.00 is allocated each month in the entire 50 states of the United States, our application for $9,600,000.— represents about 70 per cent of the total amount of money allocated to the entire United States in one month.

Naturally the White House will be very cautious as to whether they approve or disapprove this high percentage of a total months grant under the Economic Development Administration program.

The members of our congressional delegation, headed by Senator John L. McClellan, are doing all they can to push through approval of this loan and grant at the earliest possible date.

Since Nekoosa Edwards' plant in Little River County is progressing at a rapid rate and bids are scheduled to be let on the water district's distribution system on the west side of the river by November 1st, it is imperative that the water district know the source of its money for financing not only this part of the distribution system but the entire water distribution system.

If this loan and grant is not approved by the November 1st deadline, then either the Nekoosa Edwards plant will have to delay their construction schedule or revenue bonds will have to be sold for the west side of the river distribution system.

In this event it would probably have to be a new application filed with the Economic Development Administration for the distribution system to the east side of the river and whatever paper mill that was located and built on the Fulton-McNab site. Therefore it is extremely important that this project be approved in its present status for both sides of the river.

The decision for the approval or rejection of this loan and grant by the White House would definitely be affected by the favorable or unfavorable political situation in the state of Arkansas.

Since all of our congressional delegation have been re-elected in the Democratic primaries by overwhelming majorities, and the only seat to be filled is in the Fourth Congressional District, which will be determined by August 9th, leaving only the race for Governor of Arkansas that can materially affect this political atmosphere in the State of Arkansas.

The twenty years of hard work and thousands of dollars spent by individuals and thousands of hours both dedicated to the industrial development in this area due to Millwood water, as well as the Millwood water being made available to municipalities at an attractive price, hangs in the balance today, with the future of this area and the realization of the plans and dreams of thousands of citizens.

A setback at this time would materially affect the outcome of this industrial development. A committee representing the Southwest Arkansas Water District is going to Washington, D.C. to meet with Senator McClellan between August 15th and August 20th.

Senator McClellan will be expected to direct this committee and attempt to get the approval of this loan and grant by the White House. It is a most crucial trip and the foregoing is self-explanatory as to the importance of it.

It is sincerely hoped that this trip will not be condemned to failure before it is made by an unfavorable Political Atmosphere in Arkansas because any excuse that could be used to reject or delay the approval of this loan and grant, with loans and grants being made in other states, could delay our industrial development for years to come.

Don't turn back the clock on 20 years of hard work. We have Millwood Dam. Lets continue to work and develop its industrial waters to the full extent, which will mean hundreds of jobs for Hope, Hempstead County and Southwest Arkansas citizens, and contribute to the future of our own young men and women. Let's preserve our pride, our progress and prosperity.

The foregoing is why, we the Frank Holt for Governor Committee of Hempstead County, believe the choice is clear in the election Tuesday.

In the scheme of things ... it may matter not what happens to Frank Holt. But it matters a LOT what happens to Hope, Hempstead County and Southwest Arkansas.
